

a two-day intensive packaging workshop:
28-29 April 2010 Hotel Atlet Century Park, Senayan, Jakarta

How to protect your products and create added value on your packaging

New trend in security packaging, New trend in label technology developments

The objectives of this workshop are to improve production technology and packaging design innovations and to develop more knowledge of labels technology, including the latest security technologies and techniques, thus making it virtually impossible for counterfeiters to create fake products, especially in the pharmaceutical industries.

For personal care and beauty products, well-designed packages offer a promotional tool and convenience value to the user. This can result in another form of product differentiation. On this workshop, will help you to find the best packaging solutions by evaluating alternative materials & creating a value added approach.

Who Should Attend?

Pharmaceuticals; Medical devices; Personal Care Products; Cosmetics & Toiletries; Herbs and Nutritional Products. The workshop will be especially beneficial to: Packaging Specialist, QA/QC, Purchasing, Production Manager, Marketing Manager and Supplier, and all related to work on packaging.

FEE : Rp.2.000.000 for two day intensive workshop included Certificate and Refreshments (2 x Coffee Break and 1 x Lunch each day)
